

Supplementary material for: O’Callaghan S.A. 2023. Observations of long-finned pilot whale (Globicephala melas) calves less than one year old, including neonates and a very recently born calf, in northern Norway. Polar Research 42. Correspondence: Seán A. O’Callaghan, Marine and Freshwater Research Centre, Atlantic Technological University Galway City, Old Dublin Road, Galway, Ireland H91 T8NW. E-mail: seanocallaghan212@gmail.com

Supplementary Fig. S1. A neonate long-finned pilot whale and its presumed mother, in Bleik Canyon, Norway, on 30 April 2020. (Photo: Seán A. O’Callaghan.)

Supplementary Fig. S2. Location of the long-finned pilot whales in Bleik Canyon, Norway, on 21 June 2020, during the first trip (blue) and second trip (purple), in addition to where the very recently born pilot whale calf was observed (orange star).